

THE END OF THE CAR ERA? CHANGING DEMANDS AND THE TRANSPORT EXPERIENCE

Prof Mark Stevenson, PhD

Professor of Urban Transport and Public Health, University of Melbourne

SEMINAR PRESENTATION

Date: Friday May 26, 2017

Time: 9:30 am—11:30 am

Venue: Seminar Room 1, Technology Park Bentley—Conference &
Business Function Centre

Address: 2 Brodie Hall Drive,
Bentley.

Parking is available at the Function Centre with overflow on the grassed area.

Refreshments will be served after the seminar.

Please RSVP to
matthew.govorko@curtin.edu.au

Professor Mark Stevenson is an epidemiologist and Professor of Urban Transport and Public Health. Prior to this appointment, Prof Stevenson was Director of the Monash University Accident Research Centre, a leading transport safety research Centre in Melbourne, Australia.

Prof Stevenson has a PhD (Distinction) from The University of Western Australia and a Master's degree in Public Health from Curtin University and became a Fellow of the Australasian College of Road Safety in 2008. He is a National Health and Medical Research Council (Australia) Fellow, an Honorary Professor in the Peking University Health Science Centre, China, and an advisor for injury to the Director General of the World Health Organisation. Prof Stevenson has published over 200 peer-reviewed articles, books, book chapters and technical reports and procured more than $30 million in competitive research funding including funding from the NHMRC, ARC and the US National Institutes of Health.